N. B. R. S. will attend to the drawn and acknowledgment of Derds &c. and reduties connected with the office of a ; of the Peace.

City and County Collector's Office. SUPPLEMENT TO THE GLOBE

PROSPECTUS

FOR THE CONGRESSIONAL GLON

THE Congressional Globe, which we can menced publishing at the last Session Congress, will be continued through the proaching one. It will be published in the continued through the proaching one. proaching one. It will be published in same form, and at the same price; that is, as a week, on a double royal sheet; made as quarto form, at ONE DOLLAR per countries session. When any inventifies of discussed, we propose to print an extra sher Subscribers may a scalar on at least three four extra sheat. At the close of the saion, an Index will be made for the lata 2d sessions, and sent to all the subscribes, we shall pay to the reporters alore, in preparing the reports that will be published this paper, more than one hundred delictive, week, during the session. In published therefore, at one dollar for all the ruske printed during the session, we may but affording the most important internation the cheapest price.

Editors with whom we exchange, all he give this. Prospectus a gratuous items and those friends to whom we may seed. will please procure subscribers.

TERMS.

1 copy during the session. Site
11 copies during the session. Site Payment may be made by mail, pen paid, at our risk. The notes of any spen paying Bank will be received.

No attention will be paid to any oris

I WILL sell my Farin on South River, Private Sale. It contains upwards of

THOUSAND ACRES.

and possesses more attentages than mostles.

Any information which may be required a be afforded to those who will call upon set my residence in this city, or on R. R. wood, E-q. at the Farmers Bank of Minda For the Land will be sold in Losies

RICHARD HARWOOD, of The

The Editors of the Baltimore Gazette, a American Farmer, will insert the above a week until otherwise required.

friends, and the public in goors, and intends, and the public in goors, and intends, to confine himselfer amess, and intends to confine himself future altogether to that of an UNDERIA

All orders for Funerals will be attended at the shortest notice, either in the usual mer, or according to special direction.

He returns his thanks to the public forth patronage during the last two nopes that his paomptness and attenties continue to merit their favour.

WASHINGION G. TUCK.

BASIL SHEPHARD.

MERCHANT TAILOR TFERS to the chilzens of Annapolas the public generally, a selection of and fashionable FALL AND WIND 1000S, from the New York, Philadel and Bastimore markets, consis Black Bine, Dutch Rule Dahlis, Issish Green, and Russia Raven; Brown, daths milled Diab, Olive, and Gray CLOTHS.

AND ALSO C.1.NIBLET, for Over Coats. Diagonal, Zugzag, Polish Mixed and Printe Mixed, Ribbed and Plain CASSIMERES, and Printed CASSINGTS.

Merinos, Matelasse Silk, Sain, pain twilled Silk, Florentine, Medley St Cashmire & Toilinette

VESTINGS.

White. Black and Fancy Sik HANDE CHILES, HOSE, GLOVES, SU PENDERS, SHIRT SHAMS, STOCKS, COLLARS and ORIENTAL DRESS-ING GOWNS.

All of which he respectfully invites they lie to call and examine.

FOR ANNAPOLIS CAMBRIDGE A EASTON.

The Steam Bass.

RY1.AND. comments
her route on TUSD.
the 9th inst. lessing
lower end of bass.

(Cambridge by Castle Haven.) and Essen.
Tecturn from the Eastern Shore on every nesday and Saturday, leaving Easten at 1 M. by Castle Haven and Annapelis. She commence her Chestertown Trip on Man 22d-April, leaving Baltimore at 6 n'clock, return the same day, leaving Chestertown o'clock, calling at Corsica wharf, for the D treville passsengers.

o'elock, calling at Corsica want; to treville passengers.

N. B. All baggage at the owners ink.

N. B. All baggage at the owners ink.

Passage to or from Easton or Cambridge, St.

Passage to or from Anispolis.

Passage to Chestertown or Corsica.

Children under 12 years of age half price.

LEM'L. G. TAYLOR, Nister

e Autopland Cansette.

ANNAPOLIS, THURSDAY JANUARY 1/1845

Printed and Pablished by JONAS GREEN, the Brick Building on the Public Circle. Three Dollars per annum.

From the Albany Microscope. The Quilling.

flowing is descriptive of a scene in which I late-ing a descriptive of a scene in which I late-cated with a circle of my francis in trus city. See John H, see will have the approbation of parameters will have the approbation of NANCY.

The day is set, the laddes met,
And at the frames are nested,
Is orier phood, they work in haste,
To get the quilt completed.
While fingers Hy, their tongues they ply,
And numate tricit labours,
In counting boans, discussing estothers,
Or taking of their neignicures.

Or taking of their neignicures. Or ulking of their neighbours.

*lear, what a proofly freely year's ou' —

"In very glad you'ttken's."

-In that Miss Miconicson

Dout speak to Mr. Micate, "

I as Miss Belt the other day

Youg Brown's new gig aborning—"

"Will keep your sixter Ann away!"

She went to Troy this morning." "Ja time to roll—my meedla's broko"—
"No Taon's should be setting;"
"Any weaming possible replace,"
"Isad me your sciences, Eilen."
"Is the hell in ever come about"— Nos don't fy in a passion."
"Yet, busks are all the fashion."
"Yet, busks are all the fashion." The quilt is cone, the tes begun— The bear are all collecting: The table's confidence music heard, His present such selecting. The storry and, in order stand: The dance begins with vigor— And rapid feet, the measures book, And trip the maxy figure.

Chieved by the moments fly, Oh Time himself seems duncing The steps of morn anytheing. The steps of morn anytheing. The steps of morn anytheing. The earlings go tilling,
And many a creara mas for its theme,
The plousures of the quilling.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MAJIS FROM - PHE IRISH JAUN P ING CAR! The first of a series of papers by Mrs. C. its present day, unrivalled. The writer, it oversed, on arriving at the village of control of treland, has been requested to blood of treland, has been requested to blood of man, to true and faithful serial of her family, to take his boughter with rto Englano, and to Bring her up there af-therown fashion. Narawas summoued from an inner room sucress a personal scrutiny. She came to site her knitting on her fingers, and her resteeped in blushes. I had seldom seen treater and lovely; yet her beauty was of at peculiar character which neither painter rather can describe—resembling a field wet more nearly than aught else, the charm * nch consists partly in its perfame, partspect and bearing.

My seat was opposite a little window over-sled by an elder tree. One of the panes is over, and a portion of dilapidated hat as breen, and a portion of disapidated hat does thrust into the aperture. As the red father discoursed upon what the pretty at might could, would, and should do, I recird the hat move, at first gently, and sliv drop to the ground. I suspected that it was eccasioned they some one outside who need to hear what was going forward with the slight noise angested Euglong's attendand marks business despend when he wind what it was chercit, father. she replied. 'is over

The cal, father, she replied, is ever to his o' directed, father, she replied, is ever to his o' directed that boild in the allowing the strain of the strai possess a farm, and consequently did not need .God bless you, Ma'am, dear! whether or

1 told him I had not the good fortune to no, but I hope you'r not going to take Norry away from us. She'd never be any use in life to you, -she's not up to the English waysher father thinks she is -- but she is not-she'd never do you any good?'

never do you any good?'
'I quite agree with you,' I replied, some-what maliciously, 'In thinking her exactly what you say—a girl who will never do not good.

'On, Ble-sed Virgin!' he exclaimed, his entire countenance expressing astonishment and displeasers, 'I never said that of Norry.—
She that's been the comfort to her niother, the hands and eyes of her whole family-she, that her poor blind father turned against. And for whate institution with feeling in at 30h, Ma'am, dear! if ever you war in love your-elf-which in course, you war—think of poor Norry! This argument was unanswerable; and the young man followed it up with the story of his love, in a strain of eloquence and fervoor which proved his sin-centy. Ym as good as her in the way of fa-mily, he continued, and as to her father talking about her being too young, her mother was younger by seven mouths when she mar-ried. And, haven't I,'-and he stood firmly on the ground, and stretched his long muscuon the ground, and stretched his long muscular, arms unwards as the spoke—'haven't I these four bones to work for her; and if he wants her to travel, why we'll go to America, and never be beholden to any thing or one but ourselves. God is good! and the world's wide enough to hold all the people—if they datoomyodate each other; but as to saying Norry would do no good, you mistook me, Ma'am. entirely. She's good anil a blessing to every one, only, I think, somehow she wouldn't suit the English, she's too lifey and not used to serionsuess."

Here was a love affair! The same evening as I was meditating upon the ouver opposition of the Irish to the discipline of A dinus. Nora, with streaming eyes, tipped gently at the window of my dressing room.

I thought, dear lady,? she sain, after many prefactory home, 'I might as well a sense you into the rights of it, for I saw you thought bad o'ne, for the bit of a lie I tould about the windy. Well, you see, all my life I've had nothing but trouble; the darkness came on my father before I was more years old, and he lost his sweet temper along with the light, and my mother's heart would have been broken with the crossness, only I come between her and it. Well, I used to lead him about all day. and nurse the children all night, with mayby not a shoot to my foot; but the heart was always light within me for all that; and of a sunny Sunday. Harry (that's the boy's name; though he was only a bit of a boy then, used to lend me his shoes that I night go dacent to Mass. And at last, he says, 'Norry, I had a mind for the sea, but I'll not go—I'll of a shoe-maker, as my father was before me, and then you shall never want shoes?' Well, out of that, the kindness grew, and my father knew it, but never said a word against it until lately, when the crossness overcame him entirely; and then he wanted to send me with you, my lady, which I'd have been proud and happy of, only for. Harry, my lady. Poor boy-he'd take on with the lowness of spirit, allas he any way of supporting you if you were married? were married? Oh, sure two together worldn't eat more than two by themselves, it's the one expense, married or single. Beside, he has a trade, and if the could get any work.

This if appeared to me of much import arice, and I was foolish enough to think of reasoning with a young girl in love. "What are you to do if he were unable to terest, that the favour conferred upon the stranger must have least verifit, when it comes mingled with almost interminable questions as to his perilous adventures. Another receives hospitality at the hands of persons, who, possessed of all the comforts of life, receive the way worn wanderer with polyposity, lead him from one part of, their specious mandou to another, and, bidding him good-night, leave him to amuse himself, in his solitary apartment, because he is thought unfit, to be presented to a party of friends. A third stumbles on a congenial spirit, who A third stumbles on a congenial spirit, who receives him with open arms, offers him servants, horses, pernaps even his purse, to envanus increas, perhaps even his parse, to ris able him to pursue his journey, and parts from him with regret. In all these cases, the traveller feels more or less under obliga-tion, and is accordingly grateful.—But, kin reader, the hospitality received from the in habitant of the forest, who can only offer the shelter of his humble roof, and the refreshments of his nomely fare, remains more de-ply impressed on the memory of the bo-wildered traveller than any other. This kind of hospitality I have myself trequently experienced in our woods, and now proces-

I had walked several hundred miles, ac-le relate an instance of it.

companied by my son, then a stripli g. and. coming up in a clear stream, observed a houson the opposite shore. We crossed in a canoe, and finding that we had arrive that a tavera, determined upon spending the night there. As we were both greatly fatigued, I made an arrangement with our host to be conveyed in a light Jersey wagon a distance of a hundred miges, the period of our depurture to be determined by the rising of the meon. Fair Cynthia, with her shorn beans. peeped over the forest about two hours before dawn, and cureo ductor, provided with a long twig of hickory, taok his scation in the fore part of the wagon. Off we went at a round (rot, dancing in the cart like peas in a sieve. The road, which was just wide eaugo to allow us to pass, was full of dep uts, and covered here and there with trunks and stumps over all of which we were hurried. Our combustor, Mr. Flint, the toutbandoof the tavera, boasting of his period knowledge of the country, undertook to drive us by a short cut, and we willingly confided ourselves to his management. 5 we jugged along, now in the deviating to double the fatien thater. Dry commenced with promise of fine weather, but several ... nights of white trost having occurred, a change was expected. To our sorrow our change took place long before we got to the road again. The rold fell an torrents; the thunder bellowed; the lightning blaz 1. It was now evening, but the storm had brought perfect night, black and dismal. Our cart had no cover. Cold and wet, we sat show and melancholy, with no better expectation than that of passing the night under the little shelter the cart could afford us. To stop was considered worse than to prowith some faint hope that they would drag us out of our foriorn state. Of a solden we perceived to e glimmer of a tand hight it the distance, and almost at the same moment ped by a high fence, and feil a neighing, while L halloed at such a rate that an answer wis speedily obtained. The next moment. a flaming pine torch crossed the gloom, and a tranced to the spot where we stood egro boy who bore it, without waiting to question us, erjoined as to follow the fence, and said that master had sent him to show the strangers the way to the house. We proceeded, much relieved, and soon reached the gate of a little yard, in which a small cabin was perceived: A tall fine looking young man stood in the conversation took place. 'A bad night this; strangers; how came you to be along the fence? You containly must have lost your way, for there is no public road within twenty miles? "As," answered Mr.

the farm-If I did-he'd go to the world's end! terest, that the favour conferred upon the to her, would have been impossible. Two the gentlement would like to he down, to her, would have been impossible.—Two negro lads made their appearance, looked at us for a moment, and going out, called the thought more would refer the cries of poultry informed us that good cheer was at hand. Jupiter brought more wood, the blaze of which illumined the cottage. Mr Flint and our host returned, and we already began to feel the conforts of hospitality. The woolsman remarked that it was a net word not chared to come that day three weeks; for, siid of the woolsman and proposed lying on a blanket by the fire; but neither Willy nor Eliza would liken, so they arranged a part of their bedding on the floor, on which, after some debate, we at ed to come that day three weeks; 'for,' siid he, 'if was our wedding day, and father gave have fared better; but, however, if you can eat bacon and eggs, and a broile! chicken. vou shall have that. I have no whiskey in the house, but father has some capital cider; asked how far off his father lived 'Only tyree miles sir, a . I l'il be back before Eliza has cooked your sum erife. Off he went accordingly, and the next moment the gallon-ing of his corse was heard. The rain fell in to rents and now I also became struck with To all appearance, the united ages of the pur under whose root we had found a elter. I not exceed two score. Their means see ned bare v. safficient to reader them comfortable, but the generoody of their young nearly had no limits. The cabin was new.— The logs of which it was for mid were all of one of the soles of the cabin, while the other was covered with articles of male stire. and corror, occupied a me mer. In another was was a small comban. I containing the litthe stock of the dishes, the pans The table was small also, but quite new and as bright as plished walnut could be. The only bed that I saw was of domestic manufacture, and the counterpane proved and weaver g. A fine rifler croamented the country piece. The fire place was of such nensions that it looked like as if it had lacer appeals constructed for holding the numerous progeny that was expected to result from the hoppy union.

The black boy was engaged in grinding some coffee. Bread was prepared by the fair han sof the bride, and placed on a flat bound in front of the fire. The bacon and egas already murmured and spluttered in the fra 12 pan, and a pair of chickens puffed and swelled on a gridiron over the empers, in tront of the hearth. The cloth was laid, and ever thing arranged, when the clattering of in fe announced the return of the husband. In he came, bearing a two gallon keg of cider. His eyes sparkled with pleasure as he said -- Only think, Eliza; father wanted to rob to of the strangers, and was for coming here to ask then, to his house, just as if we count not give them enough ourselves; but nere's the drink—Come, guildemen, sit down and help yourselves.' We did so, and I, to enjoy the repast, took a chair of the hasband's making, in preference to one of those casted Windsor, of which there were six in the cabin. This chair was bo tomed with a piece of deer's skin tightly stretched, and afforded a very comfortable seat. The wife now resumed her spinning, and the husband filled a jug with the sparkling cider, and scared by the blazing fire, was drying his clothes. The happiness he en-joyed beamed from his eye, as at my request he proceeded to give us an account of his af-ters and prospects, which he did in the fol-towing words:—• Liwill be twenty-two next Christmas day, said our host; 'my father came from Virginia when young, and settled on the large tract of land where he yet lives, open door, and desire a us to get out of the on the large tract of land where he yet lives, eart and walk in. We did so, when the fol-There were nine children of us. Most of them are married and settled in the neighbourhood. The old man has divided nis lands among us, and bought others for the thin twenty miles? 'A5,' answered thin, sink God! we have got to a loose, and ask you for your reception!' Reception!' Splied the woodsman, no very great thing after all you are in the single of the strange; and you, inplier,' addressing the legical that's ce a count some victualiforthe strange; and you, implier,' addressing the legical tags, can be sold and inend the fire. Eliza, can the bound as the world as well off as most folks; but you can. Come, gentlemen, pull off your well clother and drawle the fire. Eliza, being some softs and a shirt or two.'

For my barf, kind resider, knowing my country men as To, it was not much struck at all thing the, my con, whe had accredly reached, the say of controls them, drawle the side of the stranger would like some milk?—The wife stopped her work, and simily asked if we preferred sweet or some sides and as a single system in the city of Philasiophia, sou as commentatively asked if we preferred sweet or some sides and spirit or two.'

I with your good people; a tr. Fifth bore-the had a good controls provided by the stranger would like some milk; by single of our ten errer considered a like by single of our ten errer considered a like by single of our ten errer considered a like by single of our ten errer considered a like by single of our ten errer considered a like by single of our ten errer considered a like by single of our ten errer considered a like by single of our ten errer considered.

The young wile was are ally sirring with so much that all the did was not a pleasure.

The young wile was are ally sirring with so much that all the did was not a pleasure.

The young wile was are all sirring with so my the sirring that the first sul, ending a conversation. All length such as a full was a full way.

Supper over, we are all the first sul, ending the like the sull ending the constraints.

The young wile was are all such as the constraints of the first sull ending the constraints.

The young wile was are all the sull by the constraints of the constraints.

The young rest. The land where I am he gave me two years ago, and a finer piece is not easily to be found. I have cleared a couple of fields, and planted an orchard. Father gave me a stock of cattle, some hogs, and four horses, the floor, on which, after some debate, we at length settled. The negroes were sent to their own cabin, the young couple went to bed, and Mr. Flint fulled us all to sleep, with a long story intended to show as how pass ng strange it was that he should have lost his way.

'Tired nature's sweet restorer, balmly sleep,' and so forth. But Aurora soon turned her off. Mr. Speed, our host, went to the door, and returning, assured us that the wea-ther was too bid for us to attempt proceedg. I really believe he was heartily glid of it; but, anxious to continue our journey, I desired Mr. Flint to see about his horses. Eliza by this time was up, too, and I observed her whispering to her husband, while he i neediately sid aloud, 'To be sure, the gen-tlemen will eat breakfast before they go, and I will show them the way to the road' Exthe tulip tree, and were needy pared Evecuses were of no avail. Breakfast was prebared and caren. The weather original tree floor by part is a boundfully clean. Even the little, and by nine we were under way. Wilson the state of wood that formed the floor by on horseback beated us. In a few hours, looked as in it was newly washed and direct.
Sundry g was and perocoals of substantial in mespita hing from the logs that formed from our woods can with the greater regret. we at length got to the main one, and parted from our woodsman with the greater regret that he would accept nothing from any of us. On the contrary, telling Mr. Flint, with a smile, that he hoped he might some time again follow the longest track for a short cut. he hade us adieu, and trotted back to his lair Eliza and his happy home.

> NEW IMPORTATION. GEORGE McNEIR. MERCHANT TAILOR.

HAS just received a LARGE & HAND-

CLOTHS, CASSIMERS AND VESTING, all of the latest importation and style, which he invites his friends and the public to call and examine.

ALSO: A supply of GLOVES, STOCKS, COL-LARS, SUSPENDERS, SILK HOSE, &c. Octo, 2, 1884.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

D virtue of a writ of fiert factas issued out of the Court of Appears. d to me directed, against the goods and conatters, lands and tenements, of D James Tongue, at suit of Robert Welson. I have serzed and taken in execution, all the right, title, interest, property, claim and demand, both at Lw and in equity, of said James Tongue, of, in and to all that tract or parts of a tract of land and premises, called Pascali's Purchase, also two Negro men Jim and Authory; and on Thursday the 15th day of January next, at Tracy's Landing, I shall proceed to sold the said pro-perty to the highest bilder, for each, to satis-is the debt due by aforesaid. Sale to commence at 12 o'clock. R. WELCH, of Ben.

Sh'II. A. A. County.

JUST PUBLISHED. THE UNITED STATES CATHOLIC AL-MANAC, OR LAITY'S DIRECTORY FOR 1835.

December 25.

The above work is embellished with a fiand-some view of the Cathedral in Baltimore; a Portrait of the Most Rev. Leonard, Neale, 2d. Archbishop of Baltimore; and a riguette view of St. Joseph's Female Academy at Emittsturg Md.; and embraces 152 pages of closely printed matter containing, among numerous other heads the following: Chronological circle; Solar & Lunar Eclysen; Calendar of the dif-Solar & Lunar Ectipses; Calendar of the dif-ferent months in the year, with the rising and setting of Sun- and Moon, Sun's declination &c. Chronological Table, shewing the suc-cassion of the Hierarchy of the United States. A list of the Carbolic Clergymen in the U. S; Executive Government; the Judiciary; Su-paid at by the til the

m. one ed and . being in Anne dit-. Horxcellent av. 31st o'clock.

INY. ars, and uities. ust Es-attended

NEY. or living ie 2d of Horse aav Horse person or to the Swan, in he above IN. 313 T, m 10 to ban any arket, or will be

Hunter's PER. orge O. Detore me

ING. a. ut fifteen